

PETER A. MYERS.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 180.]

MARCH 5, 1840.

Mr. S. WILLIAMS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom were referred the papers of Peter A. Myers, report:

That the said Peter A. Myers states on oath that he enlisted as a private soldier into the service of the United States at Utica, the 26th day of May, 1812, for five years: that he was engaged in the attack at Little York, Upper Canada, on the 27th of May, 1813: that an explosion of a magazine took place: that a stone by said explosion was thrown up and fell on his right wrist: that in consequence thereof, he was unable to do military duty for two months: that he served out his full time, and was honorably discharged: that he has from the time he received the wound, been partially disabled. He proves by two witnesses (who are certified to be respectable and credible by the judge before whom they were sworn) substantially every thing he has sworn to himself. Two surgeons certify on oath, that his disability is one-half. The papers and proof were presented to Congress on the 31st day of December, 1838.

The committee think that he is entitled to relief, and report a bill accordingly, giving him four dollars per month, to commence on the 1st day of January, 1839.

Blair & Rives, printers.

PETER A. MYERS.
[To accompany bill H. R. No. 150.]

MARCH 5, 1830.

Mr. B. WILLIAMS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom were referred the papers of Peter A. Myers, report:

That the said Peter A. Myers states on oath that he enlisted as a private soldier into the service of the United States at Utica, the 26th day of May, 1812, for five years; that he was engaged in the attack at Little York, Upper Canada, on the 27th of May, 1813; that an explosion of a magazine took place: that a stone by said explosion was thrown up and fell on his right wrist: that in consequence thereof he was unable to do military duty for two months; that he served out his full time, and was honorably discharged: that he has from the time he received the wound, been partially disabled. He proves by two witnesses (who are certified to be respectable and credible by the judge before whom they were sworn) substantially every thing he has sworn to himself. Two surgeons certify on oath, that his disability is one-half. The papers and proof were presented to Congress on the 31st day of December, 1828.

The committee think that he is entitled to relief, and report a bill accordingly, giving him four dollars per month, to commence on the 1st day of January, 1830.

Blair & Rivers, printers.